THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION day throughout the United States and in Paris it should be observed with special care and attention. Prevention is always the better part and cure is a costly proposition. There are a considerable number of fire traps of our sort and another in Paris; though this city is probably in much better condition than a considerable percentage of the cities of the United States, having had its lesson.

OUR GREAT FIRE started in one small house—and before it had burned itself out the city had lost more than 1400 business and public buildings and residences and the total property loss was eight millions. If there had been preventive measures possibly the fire would not have started. The fire also brought us the lesson that fire prevention is a public matter and not that of the individual affected solely.

IF THE BOTTOMS are fixed as they should be we can get into town and out of town this winter. If the bottoms are not fixed we shall be kept at home. If we can't get into the city—those of us who live in the country—we shall lose our market for what things we have to sell. If those who live in the country are not able to get in we shall be forced to do without many of the things which we desire and with which they supply us. We shall both be the loser and no one the gainer.

THE ROAD BOARD should bear in mind that the letting of contracts is only a part of the duty with which its members are charged. So far as it goes that is an important matter and we are willing to believe that the road board and the commissioners have been most conscientious in the discharge of that part of their duty. But there remains further duty of seeing that the contract is executed in a manner which is to the interest of the people of the county—and the provision for slabs through the bottoms is a most important part of the contract.

THE VOTERS should bear in mind that there are three most important amendments to the constitution to be voted upon at the approaching election. One of them provides for the doing away with the fee system, which has been such a curse to the State.

Little Stories For Bedtime

Mistah Mocker Makes Himself at Home.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

At first, when the little meadow and forest people had been asked to pardon the tricks that he and Unc' Billy Possum had played on a few were inclined not to. While they were talking the matter over Mistah Mocking Bird began to sing again that wonderful song of his. It was ended every one was ready to grant the pardon. They crowded around Mistah Mocking Bird, and, because he is good natured, he made his voice sound like the voice of each one who spoke to him. Of course they thought that was great fun, and by the time Unc' Billy Possum's moonlight party broke up Mistah Mocking Bird knew that he had made so many friends that he could stay in the Green Forest as long as he pleased.

But there were a lot of little people who were not at Unc' Billy Possum's party because they go to bed instead of going out nights. Of course they all heard about the party the next morning, and were very anxious indeed to see the stranger with the wonderful voice.

So Mistah Mocking Bird went calling with Ol' Mistah Buzzard, and they visited all the little meadow and forest people who had not been at the party. Of course Mistah Mocking Bird had to show off his wonderful voice to each one. When he had finished he was tickled out, and was Mistah Mocking Bird, but he was happy for now he had made friends and could live on the edge of the Green Forest with his old friends Unc' Billy Possum and Ol' Mistah Buzzard.

So Mistah Mocking Bird soon made himself at home, and because he was happy he would sing all day long. And sometimes when the moon was shining he would sing for very joy. Now Peter Rabbit thought Mocker's voice such a wonderful thing that he used to follow Mocker around just to hear him fool others by making his voice sound like theirs. It was great fun. Peter and Mocker became great friends, and so when Peter heard it whispered around that Mistah Mocking Bird had not come by his wonderful voice honestly he didn't believe a word of it and was very indignant. Of course he couldn't go to Mistah Mocking Bird himself and

The salary system may also prove a curse if the members of the legislature do not fully and properly perform their duty, of course; but we must depend upon them to do that—as we do in much more important matters.

THAT AMENDMENT also opens the way for the legislature to fix the salaries of the State officials, all of whom have been underpaid for these many years. The salaries were adequate in 1874; but they don't fit the conditions of 1920 by several hundred dollars per annum. This may cause some of the voters to cast their ballot against the amendment, but it should be a consideration for its adoption.

ANOTHER of the amendments is sought by the teachers of the State; it gives the local trustees the right to increase the taxes to be levied for school purposes and the authorities of municipalities to increase the taxes for public works. The latter feature is not especially desirable but the former is wholly so. The legislature studied the question thoroughly and then it hooked in that part of concerning municipalities it was exercising wisdom, no matter what effect it may have upon the amendment.

THE AMERICAN COTTON association offers a real solution for a lot of the troubles of the cotton grower. In one way, at least, it is the best plan ever submitted for it is founded upon unity of action. The bankers and the merchants are pledged to stand alongside the farmers and there is every evidence that they are going to do so. The Federal reserve bank is now functioning and there is an agency which can draw the money from one part of the country into that section where it is needed without any delay.

IT IS TRUE that the Federal reserve bank has been charged with being unduly anxious for profits rather than for rendering service to the people of the country, as it was designed to do. It is true that the Federal reserve bank is exacting a profit out of proportion to its service; but it is also true that for the first time we have an agency which is functioning upon broad lines and which renders possible a system of financing never before within the reach of the banks privately owned.

THE BAD FEATURES of the Federal reserve bank are going to be eliminated and ironed out; the good features are going to be retained; and the good features will be such as to make of minor consequence the bad, for they can be gotten out of the calculation through congressional action as soon as there is a change in the head of the treasury department. That is not to be construed as predicting any relief from republican sources, especially; for it must be borne in mind that Cox will make a change in that cabinet official and in all probability have a secretary whose sole idea will not be accumulation of funds.

RETAIL CLOTHES IN CHICAGO 6,000 STRONG.

One of the most interesting events of this Convention was the statistics brought out by Prof. Horace E. Burgess, head of the Department of Business Research of the Northwestern University, developing the fact that members of this Association, were operating on the lowest margin of profit every reported in the history of the clothing business.

He indicated that the clothing wanted to do his part in bringing conditions back to a normal basis. Professor Seelster showed by a survey of 276 merchants, scattered in all parts of the United States and doing a business of $28,000,000.00 a year, that the retail merchant makes a profit of only $7.30 on the $100 sale, or a little over 7 percent, and out of this $7.30 he must pay the income, excess profit and all other taxes.

An Agreeable Surprise. "About three years ago when I was suffering from a severe cold on my lungs and coughed most of the night and day, I tried a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was surprised at the promptness with which it gave me relief," writes Mrs. James Brown, Clark Mills, N. Y. Many another has been surprised and pleased with the prompt relief afforded by this remedy.

MEXICAN EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR FINE ONE

DALLAS, Oct. 8.—Although battered, by numerous revolutions and experiencing many changes in government during the past few years, Mexico still is alive in the industrial world, if the vast exhibit the Mexican government has arranged at the Texas State fair can be taken as a true indication.

The Mexican government spent many thousands of dollars in preparing and setting up the exhibit. Several car loads of material were shipped direct from Mexico City to the Dallas exhibition.

Finished products representing many lines in the manufacturing world are on display. The mining exhibit is one of the big shows. Minerals of all kinds are displayed. The copper and zinc exhibits are especially attractive.

A complete parlor suite is neatly arranged in a cozy little room built especially for that purpose. The material is of high class quality and artistically designed.

Mexican clays and cigarettes were put out of reach of the men admirers.

The Mexicans at first were very generous to their newly acquired friends with the "smokes" but one rash caused them to take stock, which resulted in moving the tobacco to a back show case.

Mexican officials in charge of the exhibit are high in praise of the feeling being displayed toward their efforts. They assert this reflects the approval toward the present Mexican government.

CHICKENS EAT BOLL WEEVIL IN PARKER

The Morning News has made an effort to interest the cotton growers of Lamar county in the proposition of keeping their chickens in the middle of the cotton patch but only with fair success.

This is not the original idea of The Morning News, of course, many farmers having adopted it in other sections.

Here is an item published in the Dallas News from Weatherford which will further sustain the assertion that the chickens do assist in destroying insects and that they do materially increase the yield of cotton:

Weatherford, Texas, Oct. 7.—Morgan Stultz, a Parker county farmer, who lives seven miles northeast of here, has solved the boll weevil question, and instead of the weevil being a menace to him it has been the means of declaring dividends for him. Early in the summer when the weevil first appeared, Mr. Stultz had a patch of only eight acres of cotton. He immediately moved his chickens to the center of his cotton field, and there constructed a temporary chicken-house. He allowed his chickens to run in his cotton and they have eaten the boll weevils. He has averaged twenty-five dozen eggs per week since that time. His cotton crop will make four bales and he figures the weevils have really helped him.

ELECTRICAL ENTERTAINER COMING TO PARIS

Glenn L. Morris, of Oklahoma City, will be in Paris on the night of October 22 or 23 and will give a demonstration of the latest electrical phenomena together with wireless demonstrations and many applications of electricity as applied in the newest scientific inventions. The demonstration will be under the management of the Boy Scouts.

In connection with the demonstrations, Mr. Morris will help the local troops establish a wireless station for Paris with a receiving apparatus that will take such faraway stations as Arlington and New York and possibly Honolulu. The Lyceum Bureau with wCaefahrdardardardale (aol establish a station in Oklahoma City and this will send out messages to the amateur stations in Oklahoma and Texas that will be useful not only information but as practice as well.

The exact night that Mr. Morris will be here has not been set but will be either Oct. 22 or 23. The boys hope to secure enough money over what is paid Mr. Morris, which is a more nominal fee, to purchase a receiving set. Friends of the Scouts are asked to watch announcements and to plan to attend the lecture and demonstration.

TYPEWRITER REPAIR SHOP MAY BE OPENED IN PARIS

M. Charles Behr of Dallas is in Paris to make a survey of the situation as to establishing a typewriter repair shop, something which he has been assured is needed very much here.

If there is such a shop in Paris it doesn't advertise and the location of it is not known generally.

As a rule the owners of machines put up with them as well as they can until an itinerant comes along, and then they are seldom pleased. While some others ship to Dallas with an additional expense.

Mr. Behr is at the Morgan hotel and is of opinion that he will establish a shop here, believing that a city of 15,000 people needs such a service.

LAMAR COUNTY LEADS IN NUMBER OF FARMS

Lamar county leads all Texas in the number of farms, having 6,831, according to the census of the United States. For census purposes a farm is all the land cultivated by one person whether directly or with the help of others; that is, it may be two acres or it may be a section.

Texas has 435,666 farms so that the showing of Lamar county is a most excellent one.

The county of Fannin has 6,338 farms; Hunt, 5,135; Red River, 5,822. The figures as to the acreage included in these farms will not be forthcoming for several months, in all probability; but Lamar is one of the few counties in the State which has shown a growth in population in the farming section.

Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation. Chamberlain's Tablets have restored to health and happiness hundreds who were afflicted with indigestion, biliousness and constipation. If you are troubled in this way give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased for they will benefit you.

The Lamar County League of Women Voters will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce for instruction as to voting—that is the method of preparing the ballot and of registration under the new law imposing a tax upon the newly enfranchised women.

The instruction will not include any partisan assertions and the women who intend to vote the republican ticket can gain just as much as those who are going to vote the democratic.

The league intends only to instruct women generally and to espouse no particular political cause.

ROTARY CLUB PRACTICING SONGS FOR CONVENTION

So very assured does President Blyth of the Rotary club feel that Paris is to have the district convention that he has started the members practicing on the songs they are to sing to the visitors.

Most of Friday's sitting was devoted to a singing lesson, and he said that the president's efforts along that line were provocative of really good singing.

As leaders the club had Mrs. W. Hoyt Brazelton and Miss Mary Jones with Prof. Shaw at the piano; and both ladies favored with solos, which were well received and approved. Fourteen members of the club have been assigned as a campaign committee to go to Dallas to secure the convention and this visit will be made October 29.

TAMPA MOTORMAN GETS OVER HIS TROUBLES

After Suffering Ten Years From Indigestion Emerson Is Relieved Through The Use of Tanlac

"I certainly am glad Tanlac came my way, for if I had been much longer finding something to help me I would simply have had to give up my job," said James N. Emerson, a motorman for fourteen years with the Electric Company and who lives at 2404, 7th ave., Tampa, Fla. "Some ten years ago," he continued, "I began having trouble with my stomach. I kept going from bad to worse till four or five years ago when my condition became awful. Since that time I had not been able to eat anything without suffering from indigestion. After eating I would bloat up with gas till it was hard for me to breathe and I would have the worst kind of misery in the pit of my stomach. My food seemed to do me no good and I became so weak, run down and nervous that I never felt like doing a day's work. In fact many a day it was all I could do to operate my car.

"When Tanlac was put on sale here at Tampa I bought a bottle and in three days after starting on it the gas had stopped forming on my stomach and I could eat without any discomfort. I am now eating just anything I want and never have a pain or uncomfortable feeling afterwards. I am now feeling just splendid and my old time strength and energy are rapidly returning. From my experience I honestly believe that Tanlac is the best medicine sold for any sort of stomach trouble."

Tanlac is sold in Paris by Mayes Drug Store, in Blossom by J. D. Dick-ey & Son, in Roxton by City Drug Store, in Howland by K. B. Burgess.

SPRINGFIELD, MO., OFFICERS FIND STOLEN AUTOS HERE

D. C. Welch, chief of police at Springfield, Mo., and H. A. Gardner, a reserve officer of the police department were in Paris yesterday and located seven automobiles that had been stolen from Springfield and were brought here and sold.

The officers were accompanied by Dr. Pipkin of Springfield, who had two Dodge cars stolen at different times. After the first one was stolen he bought another of the same make and it was likewise taken. Both of them were found here and identified and recovered by them.

The officers stated that since the first of last April twenty-six automobiles had been stolen from different citizens of Springfield and that officers were unable to get a lineup on the gang that was running them out of the country until about ten days ago when they got hold of one of them who was a little new to the business.

He weakened, according to the officer's statement, and gave them a tip that the missing autos had been taken to a garage in Texarkana and disposed of. The Springfield officer went to Texarkana, called at the garage and learned that seven autos all of which had been brought to Paris had been sold.

The Springfield officer got City Marshal Harrell and his force to assist them in locating the automobiles. Some of them had been sold to parties in the country, and they were brought in. Dr. Pipkin will start back with his cars overland to Springfield today.

The Texarkana man who sold the autos here was with the Springfield officers in Paris yesterday. He said he was going to see that the parties whom he sold didn't lose their money. Three other automobiles were located at other points by the officers while they were looking after the ones sold here.

The chief of police stated that there were eight men in jail in Springfield in connection with the automobile thefts.

LITTLE PIMPLES FOR 4 MONTHS

On Brother's Forehead and Head. Itched. Hair All Came Out. Cuticura Heals.

"Little clear pimples started on my brother's forehead and scaled over, until they were almost all over his head and around his eyes. The skin was red and sore, and the eruption itched. He was cross, fretful and could not rest well. His hair all came out."

"This trouble lasted four months. Then we began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and three cakes of Cuticura Soap with three boxes of Cuticura Ointment healed him." (Signed) Lynn Steed, Childress, Texas, June 26, 1919.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum are all you need for every-day toilet and nursery purposes. Bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water to cleanse the pores. If signs of redness, roughness or pimples are present, or dandruff on scalp, touch gently with Cuticura Ointment before bathing or shampooing.

and showed substantial rallies later. The official condition and crop figures were closely in line with most of the private reports. There had been enough uncertainty as to the showing, however, to check selling and promote covering, and the appearance of the report proved the signal for a renewal of pressure or re-selling. This carried the price of December contracts off to 20.50 while May broke to the 20c level—figures which seemed to be attracting some speculative or investment support. Such buying came chiefly from Wall Street sources and was supposed to represent a belief that commodity values as a general proposition had sold low enough to discount bearish features and that buying for consumption could not be much longer delayed. The rallies which followed met southern hedge selling and were not fully sustained, although advices received here from the south said holding had become more general with improvement in spot demand. The latter was attributed to buying to fill October shipments and has resulted in some buying to cover short hedges. A few October notices have been issued and there were reports of cotton coming here from the south for tender, which probably accounted for the relatively easy ruling of the spot month toward the end of the week.

Local brokers meanwhile say they can find little sign of improvement in the market and the uncertainty of the British coal labor situation has remained a factor.

FORT SMITH, Ark., 8.—Approximately fifty miners working in the Jenny Lind No. 18 and the Coronado Mine near Huntington, Ark., walked out today.

COAL CARS PREFERENTIAL ALL EAST OF COLORADO

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Action to satisfy demands for domestic coal in various states was taken tonight by the interstate commerce commission in an order requiring railroads east of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico, to furnish coal to mines in preference to any other use.

Former orders of this character applied only to the east of the Mississippi region. The present order, the commission said, would run until further notice, but be relaxed as the situation warranted.

The commission also ordered all outstanding permits for use of coal cars for other freight cancelled and announced that arrangements to continue the movement of certain essentials such as sugar beets to factories, would be made.

Working in conjunction with coal operators and railroads, a program has been formulated, the commission said, which is expected substantially to meet domestic coal needs. It is planned to transport 2,100 cars daily for this purpose in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, eastern Kentucky, eastern Tennessee, western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Attention is also being given to needs of domestic consumers in other states, the commission added.

After October 14, preferential car supply for public institutions will be afforded only upon approval of the commission.

Despite an increase in coal production, which up to September 23 exceeded that of last year by 55,000,000 tons, the commission said, there has not been a sufficient production of the size of coal for domestic purposes to satisfy the present demand.

Complaints have been received from Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas and other western states, the commission said.

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alice Hughett residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Hughett said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful... I was pale, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on. "My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me. "It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped. "Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others." If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Hughett mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, why not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years. Try Cardui! Your druggist sells it. • NC-138

WHEREAS, Texas suffers a property loss by fire of several millions of dollars annually, seventy-five per cent of which is preventable and can be avoided by applying the simple rules of safety, and by the abandonment of carelessness; and

WHEREAS, Each year many of our citizens are burned to death, or maimed for life by fire. A compilation of statistics by State Authorities show there were 152 deaths and 310 injuries during the eleven month period ending July 31, 1920.

NOW, THEREFORE,
 I, J. M. Crook, Mayor of the City of Paris, to the end that needless destruction of our created resources by fire may be minimized, and the lives and health of our people properly protected, do hereby proclaim SATURDAY, the NINTH day of OCTOBER, A. D., 1920, FIRE PREVENTION DAY, and do hereby call upon our entire citizenship to observe the occasion by joining in an intensive campaign for the elimination of fire hazards. Let us discontinue rubber hose gas connections and make all connections of rigid pipe; let us examine all flues and chimneys for the purpose of placing them in safe condition to use during the coming winter, and clear away from all premises accumulations of trash, litter, and refuse matter that are responsible for so much of the fire loss. Let us resolve to exercise care in handling, use, and storage of gasoline and other volatiles.

On that occasion let our commercial organizations, our Women's Clubs, Boy Scouts, and other local bodies stimulate interest in the work of fighting fires before they start by actively engaging in the campaign against the things that bring them about; let the teachers in all of our schools instruct the children under their care in the execution of fire drills and urge upon them the need of vigorously observe the periods set aside for Fire prevention activities by our people.

A decline of nearly 6 percent during September and of ten percent from the high level of the earlier part of the year, was shown by Bridgestone's.

Consent on this showing the review says:

"In September, as in August, prices went off heavily, more sharply than they did in August or May of this year, or in the January following the armistice. In the latter month they dropped 4.9 percent, in May of this year 4.1 percent and in August 4.5 percent."

"As regards the September decline, it may be said that ten groups of commodities declined, while only two advanced."

Dunn's weekly reported 82 recessions in the list of quotations compiled against 15 advances.

It is reported that a stock company is being formed and the stock sold in many countries, for the purpose of putting back on the throne King Constantine, the deposed ruler of Greece.

AMERICAN RED CROSS IS AIDING VETERANS IN PEACE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The American Red Cross gave aid to the country's fighting men or their families at home in seven million cases from the entrance of the United States into the war until last June. The cost was about ten million dollars. These facts are shown in a statement issued by that organization today. The Red Cross also describes how it is continuing in peace time to aid the world war veterans.

The article is the first of a series based on the forthcoming annual report of the Red Cross and is intended to show what has been done with the funds given by its ten million adult and fourteen million junior members throughout the country.

The "winding of the armistice and the demobilization of the country's great fighting machine did not end the work of the Red Cross, the announcement detailing the new work begun at the requests of the war and navy departments. In addition to the varied assistance given during the last year to former service men, the announcement shows that Red Cross workers were kept at 20 military and naval stations, including fifty outposts along the Mexican border, to look after the welfare of the men.

Through Red Cross home service sections, said the announcement, "thousands of those who otherwise would have been 'lost men' were placed in touch with governmental agencies that could aid them. The organization also maintained workers in hospitals, furnished recreation facilities and supplies for occupational therapy, in addition to making loans to patients out of funds because of government compensation checks going astray."

Among the families of the veterans aid was given to thousands monthly, the cases for December 1919 numbering 34,105, and for June this year 15,841. During the intervening period the army decreased its size by three fourths while the Red Cross service decline little more than one-half.

Hundreds of motion picture and other entertainments hospitals and camps were largely attended, in December the total attendance being 158,482 and that for June being 88,178. The cost of $1,000,000 of Liberty Bonds bought by men while in service also was effected through the Red Cross during the year, there being 15,000 bonds distributed by it for the government. In 243,539 cases of allotment and allowance of war risk insurance, the Red Cross was instrumental in securing settlements for the veterans' families. It also procured 50,000 compensation and insurance claims.
